BOY HUSBAND HAS DISAP-PEARED.

Mrs. Hulchinson, the 78-year-old wife of William H. Hutchinson, the 22year-old grocery boy and aspirant for historic fame, has rooms at the Park Avenue Hotel in New York. She is waiting impetieatly for the appearance of her youthful husband, of whom she as caught tot aglimps in three weeks.

Mrs. Hutchinson firmly believes that the boy who wedded her last Valentine's Day will return to her, and protests against any suggestion that since he is supposed to have secured posses-ion of her fortune of $3,000,000 at the ime of the marriage, he may not find it conveniant to live with a woman nearly four times his age.

Hutchinson had scarcely a dollar he could call his own on the memorable wedding day. But a few hours later be said in an interview:

retains sole possession of the millions, spending the income on himself and his cronies, while Mrs. Hutchioson enjoys the benefits of the experience and waits for him to turn up.

Romantic, indeed, has been the life of this septuagenarian bride. The youthful grocery boy joined her in her fourth matrimonal venture. From hree prior husbands she was divorced. At sixteen she wedded Dr Frederick Augustus Caldwell, of Boston, but soon found life with him not "one long sweet song" by a wide margin and secured a divorce.

Years afterward she fell in love with Colonel William Thompson, and their marriage followed. Again she found no happiness, and appealed successfully to the divorce courts.

It was not until she had passed the bree-score-and-ten limit that she again ventured on the matrimonial sea I was in 1894 that she met Cornelius B. by Druggists in every part of the wanty-five centre and praise it has received throughout desperately in love with him, and told the United States and in many foreign Be sure and ask for Mrs. Wins. him so. But the bridegroom soon began to weary of his grandmotherly spouse. After he had left her he said to his cronies:

Vital Science," was arraigned at London, Oataire, on the charge of man slaughter at the fall Assises, now in progress there. He is alleged to have caused the death of Mrs. Chritiana Chariton, of East Williams, by withholding from her the drugs which would in all probability have effected a speedy cure of her ailment. Doubtless the death of the moment will be the death of the moment will be a the death of the moment. less the death of the woman will be satisfactorily explained when the de and Planing Mill. rested at the little village of Ailsa Craig in May last. His trial brings into prom-minence a sect about which little is NO WINDOW FRAMES, MOULD | Known. In 1871 "Dr." Hall established a school of Vital Science at No. 707 North Seventh street, Philadelphia, but it was some nine years before this that the so-called science or system of vitacy was discovered.

Just what the term "vitacy" means is not an open secret, but it has been permitted to the general public to know that whenever followed it will thwart leath and destruction. The man, woman or child who lives up to the doctrine of the doctor's school will never die, he says This indefinite prolongation of life is said to be accomplished without the use of drugs, and the prospectus of the school of vital science distinctly states M. The science it is claimed, opens up the way to vital synthetics, divided into three sets of lessons-the proper use of life-giving foods; the cooking of food without loss of life-giving qualities, and the complete government of the brain over the nervous system by simple principles of sexual economy. A number of minor mental and physical courses are set down for study in Hall's Handbook of Science.

The prisoner is said to have been in receipt of a fair-sized income in the shape of fees from the Vital Friends of the Second Degree, who paid $1 each per year, besides 10 cents monthly. In May last the late Mrs. Christians Charlton suffered from an attack of typhoid fever. She was in a fair way to recovery, when some friends become dissatisfied with her condition and sum moned Dr. Hall. He put her under his unique course of treatment, and allowed her to have nothing at all to do with drugs. Now he will have to satisfac-
